Diving into Diversity

In Canada, where winter's chill does reign,
Spring arrives to thaw the icy chain.
The snow begins to melt away,
As nature wakes to greet the day.
The trees bud forth with leaves so green,
And flowers bloom in colors unseen.

Welcome Spring

The birds return with joyful song,
Welcoming the season long.
The sun shines bright in azure skies,
As warmth returns and spirits rise.
Oh, welcome spring, with open arms,
To Canada's vast and wondrous charms.
